2 Discussion of Agenda

The Co-ordinator of Centre for IKS, Dr. V. Nijarubini initiated the meeting by providing a comprehensive overview of the agenda, primarily focusing on organizing a guest lecture on "Indian Knowledge System". Dr. Rajesh Govindarajulu, founder of Vidura Vision and Vidura Bharath, known for his extensive work in reviving and promoting indigenous knowledge systems, has been invited to address the gathering and share his valuable insights on the subject. The guest lecture is scheduled to take place on 18th February 2025 at the Conference Centre, and commence at 10.00 a.m. The target audience for this event includes students from the Faculty of Commerce and Management, to provide them an opportunity to broaden their academic horizons and explore interdisciplinary perspectives that connect ancient knowledge with modern-day applications.

To ensure the smooth execution of the guest lecture specific responsibilities have been assigned to the team members as follows:

Status Update on Assigned Roles:

- Dr. V. Nijarubini will deliver the welcome address and supervise the honorarium arrangements for the guest speaker. Dr. T. Indhumathi will conclude the event with a formal vote of thanks.
- Dr. K. Nagalakshmi will deliver the chief guest introduction and serve as MOC overseeing the flow of the event.
- Dr. J. Saranya and Dr. S. Arokia Pratheesha will organize the physical setup of the venue including arranging seating for the participants and setting up the stage for the guest speaker.
- Mr. S. Samuel Rajkumar and Mr. S. Naveen Prasath will be in charge of the event's technical and media requirements. They will handle the audio-visual setup, they will also be responsible for photography and video recording, capturing key moments of the event for documentation.
- Mrs. R. Revathi will coordinate the preparation of the participant list and will also oversee the collection of feedback from participants for evaluation and improvisation in future events.

The coordinator thanked the members for their continued efforts and appreciated the teamwork and coordination extended by the members.
