International Yoga Day (21.06.2019)

1. Report

PLACE

College Campus

TOPIC International Yoga Day Celebrations as outreach program

DESCRIPTION

International Yoga Day was celebrated as an outreach program in order to give awareness on the health benefits of yoga to all the students in the college. Pamphlets about the awareness of yoga were issued for the students in the assembly. 57 Students along with 2 staff members gave awareness on the above.

OBJECTIVE

The art of practicing yoga helps in controlling an individual's mind, body and soul. It brings together physical and mental disciplines to achieve a peaceful body and mind; it helps manage stress and anxiety and keeps you relaxing. It also helps in increasing flexibility, muscle strength and body tone. It improves respiration, energy and vitality. Practicing yoga might seem like just stretching, but it can do much more for your body from the way you feel, look and move. Yoga asanas build strength, flexibility, and confidence. Regular practice of yoga can help lose weight, relieve stress, improve immunity, and maintain a healthier lifestyle. Hence; the aim of this outreach program was to create awareness about the health benefits of yoga for college students.

OUTCOME

Yoga has been beneficial in keeping the body and mind in sound health. A holistic approach, Yoga targets all the different systems of the body and mind. It is said that the asanas make the body strong and flexible, as health improves; the mind too is renewed with confidence. The practice of Pranayama regulates the purification of the internal system and the organs, acting as a superior and able supplement to asanas. The energy that is generated in the body through these physical practices is then channeled into meditation or Dhyana for stability, peace and calm

Culture Preservation Techniques (17.08.2019)

1. Report

TITLE Culture preservation techniques

DATE 17.08.2019

PREAMBLE

Since repeated subculturing of microbial cultures is time-consuming, it becomes difficult to maintain many pure cultures successfully for a long time. In addition, there is a risk of genetic changes as well as contamination. Therefore, it is now being replaced by some culture preservation technique methods that do not need frequent subculturing.

PARTICIPANT'S PROFILE

A total of 25 Students from both UG (B.Sc. Microbiology) and I M.Sc., Microbiology was participated.

RESOURCE PERSON PROFILE

S. Senthil prabhu, Assistant professor, Department of Microbiology, Dr. N.G.P. Arts and Science College

Experience of 15 years and Attended Culture preservation training at NFCCI, Pune.

DESCRIPTION ABOUT THE PROGRAM

- This workshop was organized by Department with support of DBT Star Scheme.
- Prof. S. Senthil Prabhu trained the students on various culture preservation techniques.
- Once a microorganism has been isolated and grown in pure culture, it becomes necessary to maintain the viability and purity of the microorganism by keeping the pure culture free from contamination
- Normally in laboratories, the pure cultures are transferred periodically onto or into a fresh medium (subculturing) to allow continuous growth and viability of microorganisms. students to get some clarity on information wars.
- The transfer is always subject to aseptic conditions to avoid contamination.
- Students involves in hands on training on preservation methods like paraffin method, Glycerol method, etc.,
- Issues related to preservations were also discussed.

Emerging Opportunities for Finance Professionals (11.07.2019)

1. Report

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE WITH PROFESSIONAL ACCOUNTING

Awareness of Trends in Technology Program

The Department of Commerce with Professional Accounting conducted the guest lecture on “Emerging Opportunities for Finance Professionals” on 11.07.2019. The chief guest Mr. Devaraj started his talk on Financial inclusion, which means that individuals and businesses have access to useful and affordable financial products and services that meet their needs – transactions, payments, savings, credit and insurance – delivered in a responsible and sustainable way. Being able to have access to a transaction account is a first step toward broader financial inclusion since a transaction account allows people to store money, and send and receive payments. A transaction account serves as a gateway to other financial services, which is why ensuring that people worldwide can have access to a transaction account is the focus of the World Bank Group’s Universal Financial Access 2020 initiative.

Financial access facilitates day-to-day living, and helps families and businesses plan for everything from long-term goals to unexpected emergencies. As account holders, people are more likely to use other financial services, such as credit and insurance, to start and expand businesses, invest in education or health, manage risk, and weather financial shocks, which can improve the overall quality of their lives. Great strides have been made toward financial inclusion and 1.2 billion adults worldwide have gotten access to an account since 2011. Today, 69% of adults have an account. Moving from access to account to account usage is the next step for countries where 80% or more of the population have accounts (China, Kenya, India, Thailand). These countries relied on reforms, private sector innovation, and a push to open low-cost accounts, including mobile and digitally-enabled payments. However, close to one-third of adults – 1.7 billion – are still unbanked, according to the latest Findex data. About half of unbanked people include women from poor households in rural areas or out of the workforce. The gender gap in account ownership remains stuck at 9 percentage points in developing countries, hindering women from being able to

Deep learning in Artificial Intelligence (25.09.2019)

1. Report

PREAMBLE

Artificial intelligence is essential when machines can do tasks that typically require human intelligence. It encompasses machine learning, where machines can learn by experience and acquire skills without human involvement. Deep learning is a subset of machine learning where artificial neural networks, algorithms inspired by the human brain, learn from large amounts of data. A workshop on “Deep learning in Artificial Intelligence” has been organized on 25.09.2019 by Dr. S. Krishna Kumar, Senior Technical Officer, DRDO, Chennai served as a Resource Person.

PARTICIPANT'S

A total of 150+ Students from I, II and III UG have participated in the workshop.

RESOURCE PERSON PROFILE

Dr. S. Krishna Kumar, Senior Technical Officer, DRDO, Chennai

DESCRIPTION ABOUT THE PROGRAM

- Dr. S. Krishna Kumar explained the importance of Artificial Intelligence in real life.
- Demonstrated videos of applying AI in DRDO.
- Emergence of Deep learning and how it works.
- Comparison of Deep learning and Machine learning algorithms.
- Examples of deep learning like virtual assistants, translations, facial recognition, chatbots etc. and the research directions were explained.
- Research directions in this area were also discussed.
