FDP - OBJECTIVE

The entire world is going bananas over data, IoT and Artificial Intelligence. On a very basic sense, machine learning technology eliminates the human intervention wherever possible. It allows the machine to learn data patterns by itself and take autonomous decisions without a coder's knowledge. But when it comes to a complex concept like IoT and Big Data, how would Machine Learning make things better? Every time the IoT sensors gather data, there has to be someone at the backend to classify the data, process them and ensure information is sent out back to the device for decision making. If the data set is massive, how could an analyst handle the influx? That's where Machine Learning Algorithm comes to play.

In the post golden jubilee year, the institution has entered into new ventures with UGC sanctioning skill enhancing programmes through B.Voc and Community College in two disciplines each in 2014.

A Rural Women Technology Park (DST – Sponsored) has been launched at Pillalappinkalayam, Anur Taluk to empower women in rural areas through technology transfer and entrepreneurship. All the five Science Departments were granted 'Star Status' by the Department of Biotechnology (DBT) and Three Computer Science Departments are included under Star College Scheme.

The Institution was awarded with "College of Excellence" status by UGC in 2016 and secured 22nd Rank among all the colleges in the country by National Institute Ranking Framework (NIRF) 2019, Ministry of HRD, Government of India.

Programme Overview

In today's context, skill development is imperative for career progression, irrespective of one's line of employment or profession. Skill development refers to the process of identifying the required skills in one's chosen field, determining the skill gaps and filling those gaps by acquiring the needed skills through training and development. Creation and dissemination of knowledge is one of the core functions of higher learning institutions. Faculty members who can contribute effectively to the intellectual capital by way of their scholarly prowess and research acumen are much sought after for ensuring academic excellence. The skill set requirements of faculty members comprise teaching, research and publication and academic administration skills. Among these, quality research and publications in refereed journals that demonstrate the pursuit of academic distinction is highly appreciated and rewarded.

In addition, the skill of writing research proposals that can attract financial support/ sponsorship from government and private agencies including industries is a value addition to the faculty members and their respective institutions. Statistics reveal that sizeable skill gaps exist among a vast majority of faculty members with respect to their potential to engage in quality research and secure external funding. Hence, filling this gap is crucial in the best interests of the faculty and higher educational institutions. This Faculty Development Programme aims at providing the best resources, guidance and expertise to hone the research skills and capabilities of the faculty members thereby enabling them to make meaningful intellectual contribution to the existing body of knowledge and to their organizations; as well as to ensure a steady career progression.

Objectives of the Programme

Quality research requires a deeper understanding of the systematic and scientific process of identifying and defining the research problem, adopting the right methodology, preparing quality research papers and writing applications for different grants. The objective of this Faculty Development Programme is to guide the faculty members in the management discipline to develop the required research capabilities thereby pursuing academic growth and excellence. The specific objectives of the programme include:

- ❖ Developing the capacity for conceptualizing and writing research proposals
- ❖ Enhancing the skills for developing research designs

- ❖ Enabling an understanding of the methodology for conducting the review of literature
- ❖ Understanding the formulation of research questions and hypotheses
- ❖ Understanding the techniques of data collection and analysis
- ❖ Enhancing the capability for writing quality research papers in referred journals
- ❖ Developing the capacity for writing Grant applications

The programme will be handled by experts in the field with hands-on sessions that enables the application and practice of data analysis using various tools such as MS Excel, SPSS AMOS and R. At the end of this programme, the participants will be able to develop their capabilities to engage in quality research and publications as well as apply for different grants offered by various external agencies.

Eligibility and Registration

This Faculty Development Programme will be for the faculty of higher education, specifically from business schools.
